Alternative Rockers BLACK INCOME is back with new album.

“unSOUND” is released on August 23 - 2019.

It's been 3 years since the praised debut album “Noise Pollution” was released, and now the hard hitting alternative rock band releases their new album “unSOUND”.

The wait is over, the new full length album is out on August 23.

The new album repeats where the first album “Noise Pollution” left off, with 9 hard hitting and well written dynamic songs, Black Income states the quality of song writing and keep developing their true unique sound.

“unSOUND” has a true link to the past album, with infectious grooves and blazing riffs streamlines with the earlier singles from last album such as “Everything”, and “My Favorite Gasoline”.

Among the 9 tracks on ‘unSOUND’ you’ll find A great variety of material: Alternative rock songs with Mid/High Tempo and Neck Wrecking Riffs with strong focused melodies.

According to the band itself, this is a more organic sounding album than the last one, but don't be mistaken ‘unSOUND’ is still the true unique sound of Black Income.

Since 2016 the band toured with their latest release, playing +50 concerts and festivals opening for bands like ‘EXUMER (US), BULLET (SE), TIGERS OF PAN TANG (UK) etc. Praised by critics from all over the world, and with over 1 million streams across platforms, BLACK INCOME states that the band is here to stay. In 2017 Grammy Award Winning Bass player, and longtime friend Michael Gersdorff SUPERFUZZ (DK) joined the band, and the band started writing songs for the new album. It's safe to say the band consists of their greatest lineup, and this shines thru not only on the new album unSOUND.
